2011 - Schelling America and IMA celebrate Anniversaries

2011 is a big year for both Schelling America and IMA! Both companies have reached major milestones this year: Schelling America has been in business for 25 years and IMA is celebrating their 60th year anniversary.

In 2007 both American subsidiaries created an American Alliance to provide a stronger resource for their customers. The strength of this partnership, backed with over 150 years combined Schelling and IMA engineering, have allowed these companies to reach new levels in the panel processing and machinery industry. Both companies strive to provide the latest technology, superior custom engineered solutions, and exceptional product, sales, installation and service to their customers.
